RSL DefenceCare

Through RSL DefenceCare, RSL NSW helps Australian veterans and their families in times of injury, illness or crisis.

Services include DVA claims and advocacy support, counselling, disaster assistance, financial assistance, and housing assistance. These services are free of charge and are available to veterans in need, as well as the families of veterans.

Military service can have an impact on the wellbeing and quality of life of individuals and their families. This can include physical and mental illness and injury. The impact can also extend to family members who support an ill or injured veteran.

Through the services RSL DefenceCare provides, RSL NSW aims to help Australian veterans and their families get through difficult times.

HISTORICAL RECOGNITION

A personal letter of congratulations from Prime Minister, Scott Morrison, to former Tingira President, Lance Ker, and his committee, for the iconic publication of the 10-year anniversary issue of the Tingira newsletter, VoicePipe.

The framed letter with the VoicePipe cover, newly elected Tingira President, Brad Murphy, presented to Lance, as a gift of gratitude for his seven years of service at the Tingira President.

PATRON'S REPORT

Vice Admiral

Tingira Australia Association

YESTERDAY, TODAY & TOMORROW ...

It is my privilege and honour to provide a report for the Tingira Australia Association's 2021 Annual Report.

Following a very challenging 2020, once again, 2021 has been a year like no other in recent history as we combat the COVID 19 pandemic. To those of you on the front line assisting our population in tackling this pandemic, and I know there are many, I say thank you and BZ. Your selflessness, self-sacrifice, and hard work reflect, yet again, those deep-seated values entrenched in us as young Junior Recruits and as members of the Royal Australian Navy. Your commitment does not go unnoticed.

As I reflect on those many individuals in our military community (both former and current serving) in isolation, be it legislatively or self-imposed, I am extremely thankful for the hard work, strong links, and opportunities to connect that our naval ex-service organisations provide. Staying connected and engaging with family and friends, people who reflect our own values and interest is critical in successfully managing our way through this pandemic. Building a healthy resilience, both physically and mentally, is something we should all be striving to achieve, and staying connected to our families and friends is a critical component of this undertaking.

Importantly, as I have mentioned previously, our Tingira Australia Association offers many advantages in connecting electronically by phone, email, Facebook, VoicePipe, Association Media, Websites, and the like, and I commend these opportunities to you. Please know that you are never alone and I appeal to all former JRs, as well as their families and friends, to look to the Association's facilitation of many of these communications protocols to remain connected during these tough times. In times such as these, maintaining contact with our shipmates and checking on their welfare must be our top priority. Tough times need strong leadership and commitment to each other and I know this is something former JRs have in spades.

2021 marked the 10th Anniversary of our Association and it has been an important and, in my view, very successful period for the Association membership.

I often reflect very fondly on the JR reunion in 2010 at the former HMAS Leeuwin site in Fremantle, which was the catalyst for the Association's formation. What an important occasion this was. We came together then as men who have within them, individually and collectively, a remarkable and enduring commitment to the independence, freedom, values, and way of life for the people of our nation. We came together to affectionately celebrate and commemorate the beginnings of our own commitment, being our entry to the Junior Recruit Training Scheme as young boys. Naturally, the storytelling flourished and so it should.

The stories were innumerable, multifarious, and, true to JR tradition, probably enhanced by time, but each and every story is/was about an important member/s or component/s of our naval community and therefore remains important to us as individuals and as a collective community. Long may the storytelling and connectivity endure and I look forward to hearing many more!

As we now look forward in great anticipation to a better and more connected Australia in 2022 I want to wish you all the very best for the year ahead. Please take the time to reflect on what is important to you and guard it most carefully.

I hope as many of you as possible get a chance to come together, either physically or virtually, using social media, to raise a glass in celebration of our Tingira Association in 2022. Until then stay safe, stay connected, and above all stay healthy, today, tomorrow, and every other day!

ANZAC DAY MARCH = ONLY FOR SOME

Sydney Tingira Boys finally made it down Elizabeth Street after many hot political moments if we could march at all over the previous months. With reduced numbers, which was a 'national reflection' for participation on the day due to the many national variations of Covid restrictions.

The picture above is a very proud moment in time. Associate general member, Danaan Ker, on flag duty and his father Lance, the outgoing Tingira President, led our Tingira Boys on the Sydney Anzac Day march.

OUR PROUD ASSOCIATION ...

A decade onwards, with a kitbag glorious milestone achievements this association can ride on today, we are very proud of who we are. A sign of what can be achieved when a group of dedicated former shipmates take an idea that was once a dream, to reunite former RAN Junior Recruits, and it has now become a true reality across our nation after our first decade.

25 April 2012 - I was part of the first Tingira squad on that day; our new Patron, Vice Admiral Russ Crane, led us in the Anzac Day march down George Street, Sydney. Parading the original HMAS Tingira flag and the new Tingira Australia Association banner, it was a proud moment and a wonderful memory that is very much alive with me today. From that moment I wanted to be a real part of this continued Tingira future.

On that day, we enjoyed a ride on an old Sydney bus, real diesel fumes and strong exhaust smoke waffled from front to rear, very submarine-like to many of us, all the way on our journey to the RSL club at Rose Bay. A short ceremony was held on the Tingira Memorial, followed by a long lunch with a birthday celebration for the 100 years commissioning of HMAS Tingira to that day. It was a fabulous day for all as new and old shipmates did reunite that day, and many 'brand new' friendships were made with former Tingira JR boys on that day.

The seeds were sown, the bond of the 'new old boys' was cemented under the stewardship and foresight of the first two Tingira Presidents, Chris Perrin, followed by Greg Read. We were set to become a new chapter in the life of Tingira, little did we realise this on that day.

We did not know the depth of the Tingira or the Sobraon history. For that fact alone, it was to become one of our first missions, to discover our past. Not just the last few decades that we had lived in the RAN as former Junior Recruits, wearing that Tingira flash for 12 months of recruit training, we knew that part very well.

It was this new century of history that we were now representing under the name Tingira. That's what was all before us as a committee and an association. We knew very little about our past, except the names of Sobraon and Tingira that were certainly part of our bloodlines from that early navy and seagoing days of sailing ships coming to Australian waters.

It was not long before I stepped up to the vacant helm and became the third Tingira President. The committee went on to discover a very long history of Clipper Ship and Nautical School Ship Sobroan and HMAS Tingira over the following years. Produced by the Tingira committee for the 2020 JR reunion, the two-volume book set (Our Lifetime Voyage) was a monument to their efforts and reflected how deep our 'Leeuwin' history lines are drawn on the ocean waves from early 1850 onwards.

After seven years as President, I am now in the new Chairman's role. I see our past and future naval history is still a most important part of 'future discovery' where we are as an association. Today we are certainly a new chapter of the former 'Tingira Old Boys' association and I am pleased to be part of the crew that will continue to drive the 'Tingira' agenda.

Our Association 'Tingira' - We have set and achieved many goals in our first decade, and I am glad that I have been very much part of this from those early days. One of my most cherished memories is the photograph on the opposite, the 2021 Anzac Day march in Sydney. This was the last day that I would lead Tingira as President down Elizabeth Street. One of the traditions that we have set, is to have a younger Tingira member carry our flag in the Anzac Day march. It was with great distinction and honour to march behind Tingira Associate General Member, my son, Danaan Ker, as he led the Tingira Boys of Sydney with our Tingira flag.

2022 Beyond - Bravo Zulu, former Junior Recruits Russ Crane, Chris Perrin, Alan Rodgers, and Mark Lee. Your visions, camaraderie, and leadership to take that 'association idea' from our Perth 2010 JR Reunion, and make Tingira what we are today, is to be acknowledged as very much a part of 'our' Tingira naval history.

I am honoured to make sure we continue to carry on and navigate a bigger and brighter future on our present Tingira voyage.

Long Live Tingira - Mates For Life

" I see our past and future naval history is still a most important part of 'future discovery' where we are as an association "

STANDARDS = PROGRESS

Establishing our objectives, requirements, and procedures across our national group is completed with three publications assisting present and new members with an introduction to the duties and requirements of the administration positions within the association.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Brad Murphy OAM
President
Tingira Australia Assoc

NOT SO FAIR THE WINDS OF COVID ...

“This time last year I was focused on running my medical practice here in Bundaberg, Queensland during the start of what we now know was not to be any short journey. I received calls from the Tingira Executive enquiring if I would step up to take the helm of Tingira as the next President?

Without hesitation, I responded to then Tingira President, Lance Ker, that I would be honoured to take on such a role. "What's the workload" was my first question to which Lance answered, "we have good systems and people in place, you will be pleasantly surprised".

A few weeks later I'm in cold Canberra for my first official duty to lay our annual wreath at the Australian American Memorial for the Coral Sea commemoration. I met with Tingira Secretary, Mark Lee, and his wife Margaret for the first time.

During this Canberra visit, we also gathered Tingira members to award and celebrate the Stonehaven Medal recipient for 2021 - John Perryman, what an outstanding contribution he has made. These events, the meetings, and the weekend went to plan and I was very much relieved that the 'good ship Tingira' is very much in shape and in good hands with the Secretary and the committee members.

In my navy days and now my medical days, most things come down to what is 'written'. Somewhere in a book, report, or website the facts, figures, and procedures are there as history and or a future guide. It did not take me long to come to grips with this association of the requirements and opportunities that presented to our second generation of Tingira Boys. The Secretary informed me the only homework I needed to embrace was to read the last ten annual reports and the strategic plan, that is our procedure and history, and what an achievement that is. To come on board with the administration, marketing, planning all in shape was certainly a welcome sight for me. However, I soon faced the full force of how to deal with day-to-day problems with the Covid virus, and pandemic in the community was to again affect Tingira on our frontline of activities.

It was also right here on my home front. As a General Practitioner, I was very much in the loop of how this was affecting the senior citizens of our community and could quickly see that it was going to continue to interfere with several of the Tingira events that we had planned, and it did.

"It's easy to say 'stay safe' but at the end of the day, watching that sunset from your quarterdeck, it's just a good feeling to see the next sunrise"

Certainly, the ever-changing landscape has had an adverse effect on so many of our events including the mammoth reunion, ANZAC Day, and President's dinner - but hopefully, we will be able to gather and celebrate our camaraderie again sometime soon. The great achievement and caps off to the national executive at the RSL, the home driveway Anzac Day service was certainly a formidable way to bring streets and neighbours together on this special occasion at 6 am in the morning. The efforts made by many to actually get a few Anzac parades into the streets of several capital cities was also an outstanding achievement under the circumstances.

The year 2021 did not change.

We made more plans and then cancellations, it was 2020 JR Reunion days revisited! It seems 2022 will be similar in many ways as the next outbreak is in our midst, who knows what lays beyond this.

I know April 25 will see the Tingira Boys and many other ex-service associations rise again. As we continue to grow in numbers, proudly wear our badge, tie, and beret, and promote our past history to family and friends, we will be survivors. And at present that's where we are, survival of the fittest will be the test in time.

Nationally we are seeing that the strongest of businesses still face tough day-to-day tasks. Who would have thought the supermarkets could run out of food supply? As for small associations like ours, it's a matter of being proud and staying in touch with each other.

Many of the Tingira boys are now into their late 50, 60, and 70s. Health is a big issue for us all. It's easy to say 'stay safe' but at the end of the day, watching that sunset from your quarterdeck, it's just a good feeling to see the next sunrise.

I am forever grateful for the large amount of volunteer work our committee and members put in behind the scene here on Tingira. The website speaks volumes for what we have achieved in our first decade, BZ that team of men and ladies over the first decade of Tingira.

I am convinced that I want to be here for a few more years and see us at our best in numbers and functions again. Our ship is in good shape and I too will one day look back, review the Annual Reports of Tingira and hopefully say that they were the good old days!

SECRETARY'S REPORT

Mark Lee
Secretary
Tingira Australia Assoc

TINGIRA'S GREATEST ASSET ...

“Tingira Chairman Lance Ker presents a good story of the day our real 'Tingira bond and mateship' was reformed back on that bus ride to the Rose Bay RSL in 2012. Memories, that's what we are all about in real-time as we all move onwards in life today. Patron Russ Crane's words of mateship and strength give some real solace to who we are as ex-navy members, all very welcome in such times.

Some JR members are still serving in the RAN ranks. Some think they will get a call up for a future 'dads navy' whilst most of us put the past behind us and live for today and tomorrow.

Our the past 24 months, life has been a very different course for most of us. Covid entered our sphere of daily life without invitation and has injected pain and suffering to millions worldwide. Where does it go from here? There are no crystal balls on this one. Covid has a mix of modern-day politics worldwide combined with some serious financial and health issues attached for many citizens around the globe, this could just be the beginning of something rather than just a storm in a teacup.

We here at Tingira have not been left out.

Organising any event is difficult across our nation. With the state borders closed, opened, and then closed, people unhealthy and many others just not sure of what they can and can't do; it's a nightmare on any street to bring a group together in this present climate.

The Anzac Day march of 2021 was certainly a milestone when we now review the past 12 months. The fact that we actually got to march in most states was a credit to the boys on the committee and each State Coordinator.

This year will probably be somewhat the same with many restrictions imposed again and reduced numbers most probable, where to from here I hear the cries?

As an association, we can only work with the authorities and people around us, that brings me to how lucky we are as an association to have volunteers who want to assist us time after time, however they can.

" These dedicated members are the cherished assets of the association, our unsung heroes, and they will be tested again in 2022 "

Without our volunteer members in the front line bringing us together, we would be much poorer as an association. These dedicated members are the cherished assets of the association, our unsung heroes, and they will be tested again in 2022. Please support them when possible, this is all we ask from any member able to assist.

Tingira membership is our major camaraderie ingredient. If every present member could find one new member to join the association to just join in with the 'crew' on the Anzac march or Tingira birthday celebrations in July; that would be a challenge and worth coordinating for all.

As an association, with present and new members, we will always be in a positive direction. Helping someone make contact with past shipmates that they have not had contact with for some time. Just to 'talk navy' is a big moment for some former JRs in these final years. Some days my phone calls last 15-30 minutes with a new member; I get a few chapters of their navy life and family affairs. It's a good letdown for all, just to talk sometimes, knowing someone is there, even without a beer in hand!

President John F. Kennedy famously asked Americans what they could do for their country? Today, we ask our Tingira members the same, what can you do for your association? March on Anzac Day, is all we ask if you want to make an initial contribution.

Long Live Tingira - Mates For Life

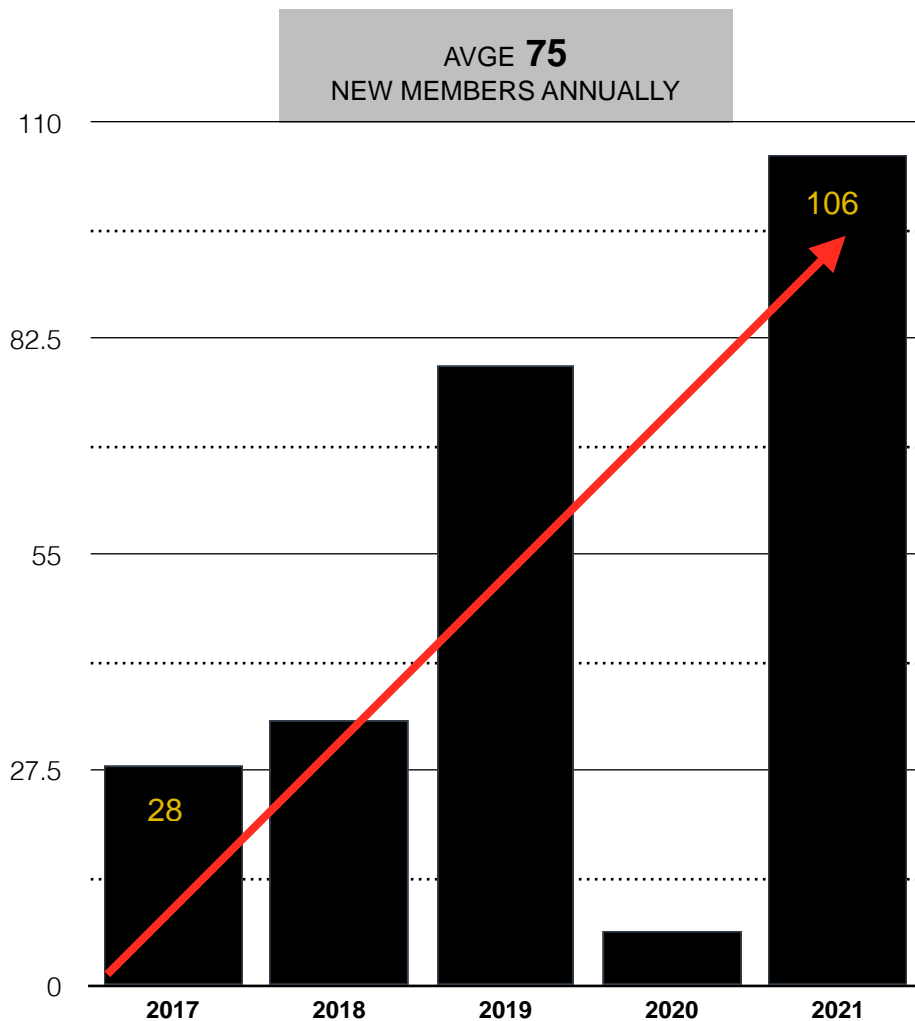

ANNUAL MEMBERSHIP

Membership growth was a major activity focus with 'lockdowns' across the country.

A membership drive in January with mail out for fees due with an upgrade to FOUNDATION member status. Followed by a similar November promotion for a Christmas hamper, encouraging results received with increased numbers compared to 2020. This also added a secure base to the financial status of the association, as membership is the main annual income source of revenue.

2022 membership remains the same fee as the past five years.

A new fee of $250 for Life membership subscriptions, as Foundation membership has ceased after a ten year exclusive offer

Going Concern

This financial report has been prepared on a going concern basis which contemplates continuity of normal business activities and the realisation of assets and settlement of liabilities in the ordinary course of business. The ability of the association to continue to operate as a going concern is dependent upon the ability of the association to generate sufficient cashflows from operations to meet its liabilities. The members of the association believe that the going concern assumption is appropriate.

ACCOUNTANTS NOTE

Notes to the Financial Statements

TINGIRA AUSTRALIA ASSOCIATION INC. For the year ended 31 December 2021

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

The financial statements are special purpose financial statements prepared in order to satisfy the financial reporting requirements of the Associations Incorporation Act 2009 [NSW]. The committee has determined that the association is not a reporting entity.

The financial statements have been prepared on an accruals basis and are based on historic costs and do not take into account changing money values or, except where stated specifically, current valuations of non-current assets.

The following significant accounting policies, which are consistent with the previous period unless stated otherwise, have been adopted in the preparation of these financial statements.

Income Tax

The Association is of the opinion that it is not subject to income tax.

Property, Plant and Equipment (PPE)

Leasehold improvements and office equipment are carried at cost less, where applicable, any accumulated depreciation.

The depreciable amount of all PPE is depreciated over the useful lives of the assets to the association commencing from the time the asset is held ready for use.

Leasehold improvements are amortised over the shorter of either the unexpired period of the lease or the estimated useful lives of the improvements.

Impairment of Assets

At the end of each reporting period, the committee reviews the carrying amounts of its tangible and intangible assets to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have been impaired. If such an indication exists, an impairment test is carried out on the asset by comparing the recoverable amount of the asset, being the higher of the asset's fair value less costs to sell and value in use, to the asset's carrying amount. Any excess of the asset's carrying amount over its recoverable amount is recognised in the income and expenditure statement.

Employee Provisions

Provision is made for the association's liability for employee benefits arising from services rendered by employees to the end of the reporting period. Employee provisions have been measured at the amounts expected to be paid when the liability is settled.

Provisions

Provisions are recognised when the association has a legal or constructive obligation, as a result of past events, for which it is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will result and that outflow can be reliably measured. Provisions are measured at the best estimate of the amounts required to settle the obligation at the end of the reporting period.

Cash on Hand

Cash on hand includes cash on hand, deposits held at call with banks, and other short-term highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less.

These notes should be read in conjunction with the attached compilation report.

ACCOUNTANTS NOTE

Accounts Receivable and Other Debtors

Accounts receivable and other debtors include amounts due from members as well as amounts receivable from donors. Receivables expected to be collected within 12 months of the end of the reporting period are classified as current assets. All other receivables are classified as non-current assets.

Revenue and Other Income

Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable after taking into account any trade discounts and volume rebates allowed. For this purpose, deferred consideration is not discounted to present values when recognising revenue.

Interest revenue is recognised using the effective interest method, which for floating rate financial assets is the rate inherent in the instrument. Dividend revenue is recognised when the right to receive a dividend has been established.

Grant and donation income is recognised when the entity obtains control over the funds, which is generally at the time of receipt.

If conditions are attached to the grant that must be satisfied before the association is eligible to receive the contribution, recognition of the grant as revenue will be deferred until those conditions are satisfied.

All revenue is stated net of the amount of goods and services tax.

Goods and Services Tax (GST)

Revenues, expenses and assets are recognised net of the amount of GST, except where the amount of GST incurred is not recoverable from the Australian Taxation Office (ATO). Receivables and payables are stated inclusive of the amount of GST receivable or payable. The net amount of GST recoverable from, or payable to, the ATO is included with other receivables or payables in the assets and liabilities statement.
