SECRETARY'S ON KEY

New broom to sweep the upper deck!

After three long days and many hours at the keyboard, the Tingira Secretary changeover was successfully completed at the farm in Cootamundra, South West NSW recently.

New Tingira Secretary Brett Mace has now taken the helm, alongside his fellow committee shipmates, ready to chart a new course for the Association after assuming "the keyboard" from outgoing Secretary Mark Lee, who served the role for 15 years.

"Following a significant change in the Tingira National Committee, the new group will take some time early in the year to discuss and consider the future direction of the Tingira Australia Association," Mr Mace said.

“The development of a new five-year Strategic Plan will be at the top of the agenda for our first meeting in late January.”

“I would also like to reiterate that a great deal of positive work and effort has been undertaken over many years to bring the Tingira Association to its current position. It is now in a strong place, providing an excellent foundation for the new team to build upon as we guide the Association into its next decade as a leading Royal Australian Navy ex-service organisation.”

Tingira President Chris Perrin acknowledged the effort involved in the transition “It was a great gesture for both Brett and Mark to give up their valuable time over the holiday period to tidy the files and complete all the necessary administrative changes to keep the good ship Tingira afloat, BZ lads” he said.

Tingira General Membership renewals are now due, and upgrades to Foundation Membership remain available via the Tingira website at www.tingira.org.au

The latest edition of Voicepipe* magazine, featuring an extensive wrap-up of the 2025 Perth JR Reunion, is also available on the website.
